

Labor Markets, Institutions, and Economic Policy

A Workshop in Honor of Samuel Bentolila

Madrid, September 29, 2025

9.30 – 10.00 Welcome and Registration

10.00 - 11.30 Session 1. Chair: Rafael Repullo

Claudio Michelacci (EIEF), “Profiting from Consumer Politicization” with Liangjie Wu.

Gilles Saint-Paul (École Normale Supérieure and Paris School of Economics), “Labor Market Flexibility and Firms’ Resilience” with Ariell Reshef and Farid Toubal.

11.30-12.00 Coffee Break

12.00 - 13.30 Session 2. Chair: Manuel Arellano

Ana Fernandes (Bern University of Applied Sciences), “So Far Away? Hiring Discrimination against Female Commuters” with Sascha O. Becker, Nurlan Lalayev, and Doris Weichselbaumer.

Antonio Cabrales (UC3M), “Does Dual Vocational Education and Training Pay Off?” with Samuel Bentolila and Marcel Jansen.

13.30 - 14.30 Lunch

14.30 - 16.00 Session 3. Chair: Nezih Guner

Andrea Ichino (European University Institute and University of Bologna), “College, Cognitive Ability, and Socioeconomic Disadvantage: Policy Lessons from the UK in 1960-2004” with Aldo Rustichini and Giulio Zanella.

Giuseppe Bertola (University of Turin), “Equilibrium Failure Rates in Tests of Endogenous Competence.”

16.00 - 16.30 Coffee Break

16.30 - 18.00 Panel: Labor Market – Past, Present, and Future

Chair: Ana Lamo (European Central Bank)
Juan José Dolado (Universidad Carlos III de Madrid)
Marcel Jansen (Universidad Autónoma de Madrid)
Juan Francisco Jimeno (Banco de España)
Ismael Sanz (Universidad Rey Juan Carlos)

Organisers Olympia Bover (CEMFI)
 Marcel Jansen (Universidad Autónoma de Madrid)
 Javier García Brazales (University of Exeter)
 José Ignacio García Pérez (Universidad Internacional de Andalucía)
 Josep Pijoan-Mas (CEMFI)

CEMFI acknowledges support from Spanish Ministry of Science, Innovation and Universities:
Grant PID2022-142790NB-I00, Grant PID2023-153327NB-I00 and Grant PID2023-153374NB-I00

